

Dear NVPians,

Greetings to you all!

A very warm welcome to the November 2016 Issue of our NVP Newsletter.

The month of October brought with it a lot of new glad tidings as well as a lot of work! First and foremost of all, our Facebook Page subscriptions crossed over 4000 followers! Trust me when I tell you that we still have a lot of trouble believing that number! Secondly, the launch of our Programmes section on the Portal has brought in a huge influx of new, energetic volunteers. We would like to take this opportunity to officially welcome you to the NVP family as well as thank you for your on-going support and hard work!

We have a lot of new content to share and we hope you will enjoy this Issue. Please feel free to leave comments on the articles, to share your thoughts or ask the author a question.

Until next time folks.

With warmest regards,
A.C, Editor

Volunteer Testimonials: Our Star Volunteers Share Their Experiences

It is through the support and contribution of NVP volunteers that we have been able to achieve our mission. We highly appreciate the dedication and efforts of our volunteers. Here is what they experienced at the respective assigned Beneficiary Institutions while serving as volunteers:

"My team members were very cooperative and they kept motivating me. It was a very good experience working at The School of Writing."

Aqsa Saleem - V# 186-06/16

"I had to go to vocational centers, observe them and record their techniques to implement them in rural vocational centers. I had an exceptional experience working at NOWPDP."

Kashif Qasim- V# 093-04/16

"I personally feel it's a great way to increase your contacts and prove your capabilities to others while gaining a professional experience. It helps you promote yourself and strengthen communities. It was a great experience volunteering at TDSP."

Kelton High- V# 120- 05/16

"I have done nothing but it was greater than zero. I would like to continue working at the Robin Hood Army with the same enthusiasm as I did before."

Muhammad Arslan- V# 119-06/16

"My team members were really great, everyone mingled with each other. I had a lot of fun working at DoctHERs and learnt a lot too."

Sobia Noreen Khan- V# 206-06/16

"I volunteered as a graphic designer as well as an instructor at the Special Olympics Pakistan. It was an amazing experience working with the talented young athletes."

Summera Khatoon - V# 200-06/16

Universal Children's Day

Universal Children's Day

20 November

"This year, I wish to emphasize the importance of ensuring that the commitments made by the international community to the world's children are extended to a group of children who are often forgotten or overlooked: those deprived of their liberty."

- Ban Ki Moon -

Universal Children's Day, 20th November, marks the day on which the United Nations General Assembly set out to recognize the rights of the child and to devote a day of activity devoted towards observing children's rights and welfare. Children's rights include: the right to life, to health, to education, to play, the right to family life, to be protected from violence and to have their views heard.

To commemorate this day, National Volunteer Programme encourages each one of you to stand up, protect and promote the rights of children everywhere. We have many beneficiary institutions working for the education of children, for the protection of orphaned children and for the wellbeing of children such as The Citizen's Foundation, Sirat-ul-jannah, Zindagi Trust, Edhi Foundation and many more. So on this Universal Children's Day, let us join hands with these institutions working for this special cause and volunteer our efforts towards the protection of children's rights.
